Live the Whittley Dream - Monterey

Few boats have had such a profound impact on the family boating scene in Australia. The very year that the Whittley Monterey was launched, it was named Boat of the Year (5.0m to 7.0m) in the annual Australian Boating Industry Association awards.

Over the intervening years demand for the Whittley Monterey has been unrelenting. Boating families all over Australia have gravitated to this remarkable boat.

It's seaworthy and pleasing lines, choice of outboard power or sterndrive engine, meticulous attention to detail and long list of standard items in the inventory.... all contribute to the seemingly magnetic appeal of the Monterey.

Most important to the majority of Monterey owners however, is the boating lifestyle which families are able to enjoy on board their boat.

This is a trailerable weekender. One where there are no compromises in comfort or appointments. This is the boat where families can enjoy life together, new experiences on the water and the freedom to cruise to the horizon and beyond.

Designed To Perform

The Monterey hull has a fine entry, designed to slice through sloppy water. The hull flattens out to a smooth riding deadrise at the transom of 19°. Strategically positioned lifting strakes, two either side of the keel, aid quick planing and ensure a dry ride.

In side profile the Monterey boasts exceptional freeboard, essential for safe family boating, flowing seaworthy lines and a stylish Euro transom design.

Many boaters dream one day of owning a Whittley. Living the Whittley dream is just as much about moving up to a premier style of boat as it is a statement about the excellence which lies behind the Whittley brand.

Many of the finest attributes which have made the Whittley name the envy of boaters were set in stone by company founder Jim Whittley. Some five decades ago Jim began building timber boats for his close friends. In an era when your mates were treasured friends, Jim built these boats as best as he possibly could, going to great lengths to achieve perfection.

Every boat was hand crafted and sparkled with the hand rubbed timber work – much of Jim Whittley's personal character and values went into each boat because he knew that his friends and their children would depend on his craftsmanship for their pleasure and safety.

The incomparable stability of the Monterey is achieved through the broad beam across the chine. This delivers unsurpassed cockpit capacity for people, fishing gear and camping equipment, while at the same time more than catering for the extra weight of a sterndrive engine.

Proudly Australian designed and developed, the award winning Whittley Monterey is a superbly balanced rig which

A Whittley?

Little has changed today. Jim and his wife Aileen may have moved aside to hand the helm of the Whittley cruisers over to sons Neville and Steven, but the same values that went into every Whittley in the 1950's can be found in Whittley boats of the new millennium.

The Whittley boys grew up on the water in boats built by their dad. They water skied, fished and camped out. Now the third generation of Whittley children are experiencing the same family boating experiences. And all this highlights that the Whittley family are not mere boat builders. Rather they have a passion for their craft and understand totally, your boating needs.

Every Whittley that leaves the production line is personally inspected by Neville or Steve Whittley. The satisfaction that Jim Whittley experienced when he delivered his timber boats to his friends, is still there today when each Whittley is given the tick of approval prior to delivery.

successfully blends classic seaworthy design values with graceful modern features.

Whether outboard or sterndrive powered, the Monterey hull is a thoroughly tested and researched unit with superb manners. At the helm you are in total control of an eminently seaworthy craft.

Interior Made For Family Comfort

The Whittley Monterey pioneered a unique "flow through" cockpit design system. Through innovative design work, the conventional step-down into the cabin from the cockpit has been eliminated.

By virtue of a gracious downward sweep of the floor line, you can move from the cockpit to the cabin without having to trip down any steps. The free flowing, clean lines of the interior are achieved by the use of a precision fibreglass moulded cockpit liner.

The Monterey cabin sets the standard for exceptional use of space and quality of soft furnishings. By day the cabin provides exceptional shelter from the elements. And by night, in-fill cushions slot into the walk-through to form an enormous bed.

From Open Day Boat To Camper

Versatility is a strength of the Whittley Monterey. Under sunny skies, the openness of the Monterey allows true fun in the sun, whether you are cruising new waters, fishing or water skiing.

By snapping into position the full set of camper covers (included in the standard inventory of every Whittley Monterey), the craft is instantly converted into a floating

Amazing as it may seem, contained within the Whittley Monterey is a sink, stove, portable toilet, ice chest, pressurised water system, hand held shower, teak table and enough storage for a family weekend on the water.

Adults who enjoy a piping hot drink while on board need only hinge forward the passenger's seat to reveal a single burner butane stove. And when it's time to tidy up and clean away the dishes, they can be washed in the sink under the skipper's seat. The sink is even plumbed with a pressurised water system.

weekender. All you need to do is zip up the covers for total privacy and seclusion.

The teak companionway doors can be left open so that the cockpit and cabin flow into one. Or if privacy is needed, the doors can be closed to separate the cockpit from the cabin.
